WORKSHOP

ARBITRATION OF ENERGY DISPUTES PARTICULARITIES & EXPECTATIONS OF THE USERS

Date: Tuesday, March 31, 2020

Time: 11:00 – 13:30

Venue: Bucerius Law School, Moot Court (1.21), Jungiusstraße 6, 20355 Hamburg

Fees: Free of charge, registration required

The Bucerius Center for International Dispute Resolution cordially invites you to a workshop on “Arbitration of Energy Disputes – Particularities & Expectations of the Users”. Energy projects require decades of interaction between various stakeholders. The interests of the parties involved must therefore be effectively balanced, which is often not an easy task that regularly requires a great amount of technical expertise. Therefore, the emergence of disputes is not uncommon. For the resolution of such disputes in the energy sector, arbitration is perceived as the preferred mechanism. Together with experts from practice – such as Dr. Elmar Schweers, Head of Legal at RWE Power AG – we will talk about the particularities of arbitrating energy disputes as well as the expectations of its users.
