

Written and Oral Advocacy in International Disputes

Lecture and Discussion

Sophie Weber

Barrister, One Essex Court

The Bucerius Alumni Groups on Public International Law / Dispute Resolution and the Bucerius Center for International Dispute Resolution cordially invite you to a seminar on Written and Oral Advocacy in International Dispute Resolution.

Sophie Weber is a barrister at One Essex Court London specialising in complex and high-value international commercial litigation and arbitration. She is recommended by Legal 500 (2017 & 2018) as one of the top ten junior counsel for Commercial Litigation and by Chambers & Partners (2018 and 2019) as an up and coming junior for Commercial Litigation.

Miss Weber's lecture will address the key fundamentals of effective and persuasive written and oral advocacy. Drawing on her experience of international dispute resolution, Miss Weber will discuss how advocacy starts at the beginning of a case with a case theory and then continues throughout the written stage all the way to the oral hearing. She will also set out her top 5 "dos and don'ts" by way of practical examples.

We are grateful that Sophie Weber kindly accepted to be our speaker. The event will be followed by a reception with Pretzels & Wine.

Date: 22 February 2019, 5:30 pm – 6:30 pm

Venue: Bucerius Law-School, Room 1.01

Registration: We kindly request you to register here. Alumni and alumnae are requested to register via the intranet.
